M.S.A.D. #44 Directors' meeting

The Board of Directors of SAD 44 met in regular session Monday evening of this week in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

A large delegation of parents, teachers and others interested in the implementation of a gifted and talented/enrichment program in the district's elementary program were present to lend their support to a recommendation of the board's Education Committee.

The directors authorized the superintendent to diligently pursue funding sources to enable the establishment of a "gifted and talented/enrichment" program in SAD 44. It was the consensus of the board members that such a program not be instituted until adequate sources of financial support were evident.

Features of the Education Committee report concerning gifted and talented/enrichment were: Hire a full-time teacher/coordinator to set up and operate the program in SAD 44 for the elementary schools. Offer general enrichment to all students. Develop and identify a process for the top 20 percent of the student population to participate in a gifted and talented program. This should be done after a teacher/coordinator is hired. Develop a community resource bank in conjunction with the volunteer groups that now exist. Have in-service training for staff members. Have released time for teachers to work with the teacher/coordinator in planning and implementing the program.

Eleven Telstar juniors and seniors acquainted the directors with projects in which they participated during "Career Week" last month. Students reporting were: Sue Fraser, Scott Newton, Marsha Moxey, Suzi Roy, Richard Saunders, Jacob Schachter, Jodey Kimball, Duayne Jodrey, Eric Wight, Brent Bachelard, and Rachel Belanger.

Boundary dispute results in lawsuit by Woodstock residents

Efforts by the Town of Woodstock to have the courts decide the boundaries of Lake Road have resulted in the filing of a countersuit by the two landowners abutting the road.

The selectmen were informed late last week that John W. and Sylvia Hauzenblas and Harold and Violet Clukey had filed suit against the town, seeking real and punitive damages of $113,500.

The amount sought is broken down as follows: $10,000 for illegal deprivation and trespass, $25,000 for actual damages to real and personal property, and $75,000 in punitive damages, plus interest and attorney fees.

The suit also demands, "That the plaintiff be enjoined from inflicting future negligent and/or intentional damages to the real and/or personal property of the defendants."

Citizen circulation up 5% in past year

Paid circulation of The Bethel Citizen climbed from 2,150 to 2,266 during the past year, according to the latest review and verification conducted by the Bethel Post Office. The 116 increase in paid circulation is a jump of 5 percent over the past 12 months.

The post office audit, completed last week, shows that the total circulation is about evenly divided between subscriptions and single-copy sales.

The Citizen's circulation area is mainly the towns of the SAD #44 school district, plus West Paris. The paper also has more than 600 subscribers out-of-county, many of whom are in neighboring states.

Youth wrecks stolen cycle following high-speed chase

A 14-year-old Bethel boy was slightly injured Monday night when he lost control of the motorcycle he was riding and ran off Route 2 in West Bethel, ending a high-speed chase that began when he allegedly ran a stop sign at Church Street and Railroad Street in Bethel.

Police Officer Norman Clanton said he attempted to stop the youth when he noticed him run the stop sign at about 9:50 p.m., but the boy raced away on the motorcycle—a 1982 Kawasaki 400cc machine.

Police Officer Clanton gave chase and estimated the motorcycle was going 75 mph when the boy lost control. He was taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released for minor injuries.

Police Officer Clanton gave chase and estimated the motorcycle was going 75 mph when the boy lost control.

Officer Clanton said the motorcycle was taken by the youth from its owner in Bethel and was being used without permission.

He said charges would likely be filed shortly for speeding, unauthorized use of a vehicle, running a stop sign, and not having a license. "He's in a lot more trouble now than he would have been just for running the stop sign," said Officer Clanton. He added, "He's very lucky to be alive."

He estimated the motorcycle sustained $1,000-worth of damage. It is now at Gaudreau's Repair.

This brings to 14 the number of motel units available at the campground, along with 30 campsites and several additional tenting areas. The Bassets purchased the campground, the original four-unit motel, and the adjoining home in West Bethel in October of last year and are looking forward to their first busy summer season.

The Redwood Motel was constructed by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Glines and was operated for several years by the Glines family as the Red Rooster Motel and dining room. It was purchased eight years ago by Paul Carter and the name changed to Redwood Motel.

This is the second big move for buildings from this property, as the Glines home, which stood adjacent to the motel, was moved to Swan's Corner in the summer of 1983 and is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wilson and family.

Added ambulance garage funding to be topic of special meeting Thursday

Interested Bethel voters will gather at the Telstar auditorium Thursday evening, May 16, at seven o'clock to decide whether or not they desire to authorize an additional $14,535 for the construction of an ambulance garage. At a special meeting in March local voters authorized the borrowing of up to $72,241 for the project.

Opinions

Decision time Thursday night

Thursday night is decision time for Bethel. At a special town meeting to be held in the Telstar auditorium at 7 p.m., voters will decide whether to allow the selectmen to use $72,000 previously appropriated for a complete ambulance garage in any way they see fit, or force the selectmen—and the contractor—to produce the completed job first envisioned.

The question on the ballot this Thursday will be whether to appropriate an extra $15,000 to pay for a complete job. If voters turn down the proposal, there's no telling how much of the job will get done, or how much money will be needed in the future to pay to complete the work.

It's hard to be called upon to pay for other's mistakes, but that is what is needed. So let's do it and count it as a lesson learned at great expense.

Safety Tip

Be careful when using electrical equipment including extension cords. A person can be seriously injured by grabbing on to live wires in frayed cords. If your appliance is giving you trouble please have it fixed by someone that knows how.

Remember if the person has been electrocuted and is still hanging on to the cord or appliance you should not touch them until the power has been shut off. Once the power has been shut off then check to see if they are breathing. Tilt the head back and look, listen and feel to see if they are still breathing. If they are not breathing, pinch the nose, then give four quick breaths. After this check the pulse in the neck. If you have not taken a CPR course it will be difficult for you to do anything else—except to get help if he doesn't have a pulse.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The Bethel Historical Society joins the National Trust for Historic Preservation in observing the 14th Annual Preservation Week May 12-18. This year's theme is "The Action's Back on Main Street" which focuses on a national effort to increase public awareness of efforts to revitalize America's Main Streets by attracting new business, encouraging the re-cycling of older structures for new purposes and preserving historic buildings that provide specific sense of place to a particular community. Anyone having preservation related questions can call the Bethel Historical Society at 824-2908 or the National Trust Regional Office (617) 223-7754. Additional information may be gained from the State Historic Preservation Commission in Augusta at 289-2724.

The sixth annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show will be held on Saturday, May 25, this year with Gould Academy and SAD 44 students invited to participate. Cash prizes will be awarded in two categories (Junior, Grades 1-6 and Senior, 7-12). Painting in any medium (crayon, oils, tempura, watercolor, and chalk) will be considered. Further information can be obtained by calling the Society Office at 824-2908.

The 196th anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Moses Mason's birth will be officially observed by the Society on Sunday, May 26, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the museum. The party is open to the public and will feature a variety of art and craft demonstrations as well as music. Refreshments will also be served.

The Society and SAD 44 Adult and Community Education are again sponsoring the annual historical field trip. His year's outing will be to Brunswick and sites planned are the Peary-MacMillan Arctic Museum and the Walker Gallery at Bowdoin College, the Chamberlain Civil War Museum and the Pejepscot Museum. More details will be published in next week's column. Be sure to mark June 1 on your calendar and call the Society to reserve your place (824-2908).

News from Pack 566

The past month has been a busy one for the Cubs of Pack 566.

The Pack participated in the Snowshoe District Bowling Tournament, which was held at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford. The Cubs and leaders attended and participated for three consecutive Saturdays. Of the seven Packs participating Bethel placed third and we were very proud of the sportsmanship-like conduct that our young Cubs demonstrated. At the awards ceremony held at Mexico High School, our top three bowlers were awarded trophies as well as all participants receiving ribbons from the Snowshoe District. The high bowler for this event were as follows: first, Howard Rice; second, Jody Brooks; third, Jason Walega. Good job... boys... all of you.

Pack 566 was also represented at the District level for the Pinewood Derby.

This event was held at the Academy Hill Gym in Wilton. Our local winners participating were Patrick Harrington, Steven Remington, Jason Walega, Robbie Mattison, and Ben Tyler. Martin Kadel, executive for the Snowshoe District praised all of those attending and told them that there were approximately 30,000 boys in the Pine Tree Council and of those only 200 were winners in their respective Pack level. Win or lose at District a boy should be very proud of himself to have come so far. Bethel very proudly had two boys winning at District level: second place went to Patrick Harrington, and third place went to Steven Remington.

On April 30, the Webelos graduated in to the Boy Scouts. As Akela extended her hand high in friendship the graduates marched in to the sound of the slow-beating tom-toms. Each graduate was presented with a certificate. The remainder of the ceremony was concluded Saturday, May 4, at Troop 565's Friendship Camporee.

Also advancing for this month were: to the rank of Wolf—Heath Keniston and Luke Gray; Bear—Freddie Burk and Ben Tyler; Gold Arrows—Heath Keniston and Lloyd Sweetser. Silver Arrows—Nate Harvey, Heath Keniston, Danny Barker and Darrin Reynolds. Webelos activity badges: Craftsman and Scholar, Nathaniel Craig; Scholar, Matt Arsenault; Craftsman, Scholar, Geologist, Jason Walega; Artist, Craftsman, Scholar, Geologist, Jason Mathias; Traveler, Forester, Naturalist, Patrick Harrington; Forester, Howard Rice; Athlete, David Barnes.

In a unique ceremony Adam Craig was transferred into the Webelos Den. Presenting him additional portions of his uniform were his brother, Life Scout Chris Craig; sister, Browne Scout Beth Craig; Den Leader (Mom) Sarah Craig, and Assistant Cubmaster (Dad) DeWaine Craig.

Next the boys held their annual father and son cake bake. Winning cakes were: prettiest—a tie with Jeremiah Mills and Dennis Andre sharing honors. Next was the tallest winner Freddie Burk and Dad; funniest—Matt Arsenault and Dad. Most original was won by Heath Keniston and Dad. Judges were John Eliot and Roger Conant. Without question the job was difficult as each and every cake was a winner. The proceeds of the auction which netted $138.85 will be sent to the Special Olympics. Keeping us ever mindful that those less fortunate than us... keep trying.

The next Pack meeting will be May 28 at the Bethel Methodist Church. This will be our last Pack meeting of the 1984-85 season. Let's "do our best" to attend.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing to you as a concerned parent that feels that we have a definite problem. I feel that we all need to take a good look at what is going on in our town. One incident that happened was when a Bethel Police Officer took TWO six packs of beer away from a minor and told the minor that if he came back with someone of legal age he could have the beer back. The minor came back and the beer was returned.

Another report is that a "Teen" was stopped by an officer and was found to be drinking and simply told to go home.

Which the boy did not do and proceeded to tell his friends that the officer gave him a break.

This might seem like a nice thing to do and he's a "Good Guy," but what if that kid gets into an accident on the way home? What about the kid that gets stopped another time and is not given a break, is he going to have a healthy respect for the law or the officer? This is the mixed message that our teens are getting. Officers I don't think you have the right to allow this kind of double standard.

Then there is the matter of trying to find out who is buying the beer for Teens, let me just ask you what is the lesser offence buying or allowing Teens to have beer?

With the many reports about drinking and driving and the number of incidents where Teens are hurt or killed we must check our priorities. We just can't sit here and allow something to happen and later say I wished—

(THAT'S US PARENTS.)

It is a very real problem and there are no easy answers but I feel that there are some things that we can and must do.

I know that there is a small group of boys that have stopped drinking. To you boys, "Keep up the Good Work" and my prayers are with you. To you that haven't tried to stop yet I would hope that you find the courage to quit real soon.

Thank you for your time.

To the Editor:

As two people involved in the tourist industry of the greater Bethel area, we wish to commend (you) on the Citizen's summer special section. The publication is something that the community has needed for a long time and serves the area well.

With the investment at our ski areas this summer totalling over six million dollars, we do feel that it would have been more appropriate that an alpine area photo have been used on the cover rather than a nordic photo. It is a necessity that alpine skiers return to Bethel in the winter or our investments are for naught. We would hope that you would consider promoting Bethel's (area) major winter industry more strongly in the future.

Editorial Comment

A continuing saga

... the final chapter?

On Thursday evening of this week Bethel voters will once again have the opportunity to be participants in one of the longest running "soap operas" of local politics—construction of an ambulance garage, the plans for and the funding thereof.

An atmosphere of acrimony of who is to blame for the evident discrepancy between cost estimates and bid prices, between a spartan design and what some think would be a grandiose structure with all the redeeming factors of a perpetual white elephant, if ever conducive to an eventual solution has long since out-lived its usefulness.

The opinion has been advanced that the school district would never "put the ambulance out in the cold." That might well be true over the short haul but hoping for that type of solution would to our mind only be putting off the inevitable. The inevitable being, that if we want and need an ambulance service, and we do, adequate housing must be available for it.

The time for continued bickering is past. In the 10 years that the ambulances in Bethel have been publicly owned a series of stop-gap facilities for housing the units have been utilized. The time is at hand for the town to house its own medical emergency vehicles without a dependency on other municipal departments, or outside political entities.

As unusual as the practice is currently, we think the voters will just have to trust local officials to utilize $86,776, the total to be available for the ambulance garage project if additional funding is approved Thursday night, not to build the proverbial "white elephant" See you at the Cross Street location.

While it may be against our "gut feeling," to favor added funding for the project, we feel that the town is in a crisis situation in this area. If the town is not in crisis it is at least "between a rock and a hard place," a situation that seems to be a way of life in the financial annals of most small towns.

Will Thursday's meeting provide the final chapter of this continuing saga, or will there be further chapters and episodes, ad infinitum, ad nauseum?

THE MOUSE
By Kendra L. Hutchinson
Grade 2, Ethel Bisbee School

Once upon a time, there was a mouse. One day he was walking, when a bee's hive plopped on his head. He said, "Bees, you'll have to go away."

The bee said, "No, we like your eyes, and your ears."

"All right," he said.

He walked and walked and he came to some mud. He said "Bees, I have a home, too, and here it is. Here is my front door."

And he stepped in mud up to his knees. "Here is my living room." And he stepped in the mud up to his waist.

"Here is my bedroom."

He stepped in the mud up to his chin.

The mouse said, "Now I'm going to sleep."

He ducked and the bees flew away.

And the mouse went home to take a bath.

By COLISTA MORGAN

Last night the moon hung, a giant round copper, close to the water, as I looked from my bedroom window sometime in the night. It was a bit of a surprise for I had expected clouds and rain.

The early morning threat of rain had begun. It was cold for May with a steady wind.

Our first show of wild flowers has begun, and the familiar carpet of blues or "Quaker Ladies" are in bloom. No one who has been in New England during the month of May can forget the loveliness of the blues. The wake robins or trilliums, brilliant young friends, are confident of spring. They almost flaunt their lurid petals in your face as if to force upon you the welcome news that the time of birds and flowers is at hand. Although it is pretty and noticeable, its odor is most unpleasant. This and the delicate bloodroot bloom out back of my house.

Along the pond, the red-winged black birds tune-up, "oc-ca-lee" comes from the bushes and cattails.

Swallows dash and skim the water, while from the tree tops sing the finches. Everywhere in the valley there is music. Spring is worth waiting for and dreaming about for half a year.

As I looked down from the ledges the stretch of water was transformed into a brilliant crystalline boulevard stretching eye distance. The breathing of the cool mountain air, made my feet winged.

I moved beyond the ledge toward the forest where a pine had fallen and shattered itself. Here I sat on a little shelf under another pine sheltered from the wind and watched the light change the water to coppery gold. Ducks swam in the circle of light, a scene touched with magic.

With another look at the weaving of the shadows and the distant hills, I then moved toward the brook. I saw the sweet white violets lifting their heads, and ferns uncurling in the dampness.

I stole out from the woodland crossing spring sun dappled brown duff under big trees, where an artist-fungus clung to a gone-by tree stump. It looked fantastic, as it lifted its umbrella spread, as large as a dinner plate.

I pushed aside a few bare brittle limbs of spindly dead trees that had lost the battle for light. I crossed to the pasture and followed the wall back toward home.

The whispering breeze became a wide-spread wind, blowing against me it made me feel that I might have wings. It was strong and cold.

The shadows deepened, and uniformly spread like a plague. It reminded me of Robert Frost's "Two Tramps in Mud Time." It was a day that can come only in our northern climate. We know the sort of moment which gives a promise of warmth, a raised hope, then a cruel rebuff. But there will be a day of days when spring holds up her face to be kissed.

Our rose-breasted grosbeak arrived May 6, five days earlier than last year.

We, or the Holts, have visited Bernard Morgan at Stephens Memorial Hospital each day. Surgery is planned May 8.

Michelle Prince named Gould valedictorian

Michelle Prince, daughter of Kathryn L. Huntley, East Boothbay, and Allen H. Prince, Golden, Colo., has been named Gould Academy's valedictorian of the senior class of 1985.

Michelle has spent two years at Gould, during which time she participated in The Outing Club, played soccer and softball, and skied in Gould's alpine and nordic programs.

In addition to being an honor roll student, she is a proctor in her dormitory and is on the staff of the yearbook and literary magazine. Michelle won the undergraduate advanced mathematics award last year.

She plans to attend Bowdoin College, where she was accepted under their early-decision program, and where she will study biology.

Gould Academy's commencement exercises will be June 1.

Gould seniors conducting pre-graduation projects

Approximately one-half of Gould Academy's seniors have elected to finish their spring semester classes early, take early exams, and participate in the school's Senior May Project program.

This program began over 10 years ago. It allows each student to pursue a topic of interest for a period of three weeks. This gives the student the opportunity to devote all of his or her energies to a topic not covered in the regular curriculum.

Ten students will spend their three weeks off campus prior to graduation, working in a variety of settings, including a Buddhist monastery in Montreal, as a Maine State Senate aide, scuba diving, producing video and audio-visuals for education, interning in a U.S. senator's office, working in a business and in a photography studio.

Each student has an on-campus faculty advisor as well as an off-campus project advisor. At the end of the three-week period, these students will return and present to the entire school a program or display explaining their project.

Twenty students will remain on campus, engaged in projects that include natural history study; veterinary science with a local vet; pottery in the school's pottery studio; stained glass construction; logging with a local woodsman; photography; field biology; elementary education in the local school system; working on the 1985 yearbook; silversmithing in the jewelry studio; cross-country trail and ski jump renovations; and an internship in the admissions office.

These seniors will also be presenting their projects to the rest of the school, either as a display of art work and/or photography, or in seminar discussion on May 30.

The Senior May Project program is coordinated by Mac Davis, teacher of English, and is overseen by a committee of faculty and students. Each student qualifying for project approval must meet a series of deadlines for topic, sponsor, logistics and description. They must also be passing all their courses on the date the projects start—this year May 10. The program serves as a break from the normal school routine for seniors who have already been accepted into college for the fall term.

Gould will hold its 149th Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises on Saturday, June 1, with Dr. Robert Strider, former president of Colby College, giving the commencement address.

Michelle Prince named Gould valedictorian

Michelle Prince, daughter of Kathryn L. Huntley, East Boothbay, and Allen H. Prince, Golden, Colo., has been named Gould Academy's valedictorian of the senior class of 1985.

Michelle has spent two years at Gould, during which time she participated in The Outing Club, played soccer and softball, and skied in Gould's alpine and nordic programs.

In addition to being an honor roll student, she is a proctor in her dormitory and is on the staff of the yearbook and literary magazine. Michelle won the undergraduate advanced mathematics award last year.

She plans to attend Bowdoin College, where she was accepted under their early-decision program, and where she will study biology.

Gould Academy's commencement exercises will be June 1.

Gould seniors conducting pre-graduation projects

Approximately one-half of Gould Academy's seniors have elected to finish their spring semester classes early, take early exams, and participate in the school's Senior May Project program.

This program began over 10 years ago. It allows each student to pursue a topic of interest for a period of three weeks. This gives the student the opportunity to devote all of his or her energies to a topic not covered in the regular curriculum.

Ten students will spend their three weeks off campus prior to graduation, working in a variety of settings, including a Buddhist monastery in Montreal, as a Maine State Senate aide, scuba diving, producing video and audio-visuals for education, interning in a U.S. senator's office, working in a business and in a photography studio.

Each student has an on-campus faculty advisor as well as an off-campus project advisor. At the end of the three-week period, these students will return and present to the entire school a program or display explaining their project.

Twenty students will remain on campus, engaged in projects that include natural history study; veterinary science with a local vet; pottery in the school's pottery studio; stained glass construction; logging with a local woodsman; photography; field biology; elementary education in the local school system; working on the 1985 yearbook; silversmithing in the jewelry studio; cross-country trail and ski jump renovations; and an internship in the admissions office.

These seniors will also be presenting their projects to the rest of the school, either as a display of art work and/or photography, or in seminar discussion on May 30.

The Senior May Project program is coordinated by Mac Davis, teacher of English, and is overseen by a committee of faculty and students. Each student qualifying for project approval must meet a series of deadlines for topic, sponsor, logistics and description. They must also be passing all their courses on the date the projects start—this year May 10. The program serves as a break from the normal school routine for seniors who have already been accepted into college for the fall term.

Gould will hold its 149th Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises on Saturday, June 1, with Dr. Robert Strider, former president of Colby College, giving the commencement address.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

The Bethel Rotary Club held its weekly luncheon meeting at the Sudbury Inn at 12 noon Tuesday. Rollie Glines, sergeant-at-arms, introduced the visiting Rotarian, Mr. J. Geronda, of Rumford.

The St. Jude Hospital Cancer crusade road race, to be held this Saturday in Bethel, will start at 9 a.m. In front of the town office, Race chairman Dave Preble has worked hard to make the race a success. A large turnout is expected for this worthy cause. Food and refreshments will be served to the participants. The rain date is Sunday.

Romeo Baker's subject for Rotary information was the Four Way Test. The origination of the test was explained, followed by a club test of the four parts of the Four Way Test.

The program chairman for this meeting was Ted Chadbourn, whose guest speaker was Roland Desjardins, WCBB, TV Channel 10.

The construction of the proposed translating antenna in Bethel and the degree of area financial support was discussed. Mr. Desjardins expressed his thanks to Cathy Newell, chairwoman of the fundraising group, who did such a good job in soliciting funds for the program.

A history of the use of translators revealed a number of interesting facts. Many remote areas now receive good TV reception through the use of these systems. It is anticipated that the Bethel translator will be in place and operating in late August 1985.

Mr. Desjardins pointed out that after the antenna is operational, WCBB will be received locally on Channel 4, rather than on Channel 3, as previously announced. This will eliminate any possibility of interference from the Vermont station that is currently on Channel 3.

DAV INSTALLATION IN RUMFORD MAY 21

DAV Chapter 21 will hold installation on Tuesday, May 21, at the VFW Hall, Waldo Street, Rumford, preceded by a supper at 6 p.m. State DAV Commander, Byron Adams, will be the installing officer.

I had Frank take me down to Benson's Friday on the way to his work. I stopped to visit Sylvia for awhile and she said that she would walk part way back. The breeze is so warm today it is beautiful walking. Sylvia had a lot of fern bleeding hearts already in bloom. After the rain of Sunday afternoon and all day Monday, everything is "popping out all over." The violets are now blossomed, wild oat, and wild strawberry. Wednesday was so different, the wind was raw and Coach Hannon said it split snow on the field at Telstar. We have spotted a beaver in the river. The first one we have seen for years.

Evelyn Hilborn left April 21 for two weeks with friend, Ellen Tuck, in Toronto, Can. While there she visited her cousin, Evelyn (she was named for), plus various friends and her brother and wife, Norma and Brenda, in Hamilton, Ontario. For Evelyn's birthday, they went out for dinner near Buffalo, N.Y. She visited Amish Country for maple syrup and cheese, had an Amish dinner with Ellen in Elmira, Ont., and visited friends, Doug and Lillie Robb in Peterborough, Ont. It was hot (in the 80's) in Toronto. Evelyn had to mow her friend's lawn twice. She came back Sunday and was in the bad storm we had until she got home. Terrible winds along the St. Lawrence, so she stayed Sunday night at Malone, N.Y., rather than coming straight through.

Amy Hannon went on a field trip Wednesday to Augusta with her fifth grade. Sunday, May 5, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hutchins and girls and Mike Lynch went to Gorham, N.H. to eat.

Manuel and Sheri Angevine Cordova left May 3 for Hartford, Conn., to see her friend, Mary McKay and came back May 5.

Sue and Kristy Angevine and Manuel and Sheri Cordova went to Norway shopping May 8.

Visitors of Thelma Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura were John and Lorraine Mills, Judy Webster and Barbara Gallant.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Immonen of West Paris called on me Tuesday afternoon.

May 9, Alberta Angevine went to the mother-daughter banquet for Eleanor Gordon Guild at Country Way restaurant, guest of Cindy Blake.

Ernest and Alberta Angevine made a trip to Oxford May 7.

Alden MacDougall went to Augusta Friday to pick up Lea Ann MacDougall from her work. She went back Sunday.

Bob and Linda Howe had a double birthday dinner at their home May 4. Bob's mother, Joan Howe, and Linda's mother, Sylvia Fontaine, were both born May 4. Joan's mother, Ethel Ward, brought cream puffs and Linda made strawberry ice cream. Others attending were the two Howe boys, Bud and Tom and Susan Howe.

Friday I was pleased to have Sue and Kristy Angevine stop in.

Saturday Ira Gibson and Joy Bryant came down from Canton to help Frank with the garden.

Pat Saunders had a household party Saturday morning. Present were Madeline Hunt, Roberta Hunt, Susan Howe, Barbara MacDougall and myself, plus the demonstrator.

Saturday evening, Ernest and Alberta Angevine brought us some dandelion greens

Dr. Leonard and Becky Shaw went to Portland, Saturday. Dr. Shaw went to meetings and Becky went shopping at the mall. Jolene Shimamura stayed with the twins.

Can We Say

Can we say in parting with the day that's slipping fast.

That you helped a single person of the many you have passed?

Is a single life rejoicing over what you did or said?

Does someone whose hopes were fading now with courage look ahead?

Did you waste the day or lost it, was it well or poorly spent?

Did you leave a trend of kindness, or a seat of discontent?

As you close your eyes in slumber, do you think that God would say

You have made the world much better for the life you've lived today?

WINNERS OF THE BETHEL ROTARY CLUB'S first Community Service Award are Janice and Ray Harrington, who have devoted themselves to promoting Scouting in the Bethel area. Rotary Club President Jim Monahan presented the Harringtons with the award at last week's club luncheon at the Sudbury Inn.

Demolition debris, bricks, gypsum board, or other non-combustible materials should be landfilled. Other large or bulky items such as mattresses, box springs, sofas, chairs, stumps or brush are also unsuitable for the transfer station.

Mr. Redman also announced summer hours for the transfer station, as follows: Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1-8 p.m.; Saturdays, 8 a.m.-4 p.m.; Sundays, noon-8 p.m. The summer hours, which will be in effect from July 1 until Labor Day, will afford Greenwood and Woodstock residents six additional hours a week to dispose of refuse. After Labor Day, the hours will revert to the present hours.

The Recreation Committee will tackle the issue of new speed limit signs around the recreational field on Howe Hill at its next monthly meeting.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE

of the defendants' property, the suit contends.

It further claims that the town seeks to deprive the defendants of "the peaceful use and enjoyment of a portion of their valuable waterfront property."

In contention is the width of the road, with the town claiming it to be a two-rod road (33 feet) and the defendants claiming it to be a one-rod road (16½ feet). The town claims that the road was widened to two rods beginning in 1867. But the defendants respond that, according to the laws of the state, the widening had to be accomplished within six years and it was not, therefore the road legally remained a one-rod road.

The road has been surveyed three times in recent years—twice by Dana Douglass, of Bethel, and once by Earl Hotchkiss, of Bridgton, and all the surveys tended to support the town's position, according to the selectmen.

Asked to comment on the land owners' countersuit, the selectmen would say only that the entire matter is now in the lawyers' hands.

They noted, however, that the road, as it presently exists, with the landowners' fences lining it, is a problem to plow in the winter. Additionally, firefighting capability is restricted because access to the water is being impeded. The public wharf is also a source of recreation for the townspeople, and the selectmen are concerned about its status.

The selectmen are anxious to get reaction from Woodstock citizens regarding the situation.

Fundraising committee formed for health center

Nearly 20 people attended the initial meeting of the fundraising committee for the renovation of the Bethel Area Health Center. The meeting was held recently at the Methodist Church in Bethel.

Carolyn Holden, chairwoman of the fundraising committee, introduced Shirley Powell, executive director of the health center, who spoke on the need for expansion. Ms. Powell stated that the expansion program will more than double the present space, thus permitting more service to more people.

Careful planning over several years has preceded this major expansion step. The center's finance and facilities committees have been working hard for the last several years studying the future options available to the center. That study resulted in a recommendation to purchase and renovate the former A&P building on Railroad Street.

There was enthusiastic support shown by those attending the initial fundraising meeting.

Sub-committees are being formed for the project. Chairmen of subcommittees will be named within a week or two and major activities will be initiated by summer.
